Leading Druggists

vanced work in the mathematics department at the University. Windnagle attended the University as a freshman in 1912-1913 and was recognized as the best quarter and half mile man in the University.
From here he went to Cornell where he graduated in 1917. In 1916 he won the national championship in the half mile and mile events. Later, when he was with the United States Air Service in Italy, where he was sent in the fall of 1917, he won the 200 meter race and the medley relay in the interallied athletic contests. These contests were held for the purpose of bringing the men of the different countries together.

RAY SCHALK
The strain of squatting behind the bat day after day is beginning to tell on Ray Schalk, the wizard endurance catcher of the White Sox. Deep furrowed lines show plainly about his eyes. But his game is just as good as ever. Ray played in his one thousandth game on June 4 for the Sox. He should reach the goal of "catching" 100 games for the Sox early in July.

As recognition of his athletic victories in Italy Windnagle was presented with a gold watch bearing the royal arms by the Queen Mother of Italy. He also has a bronze statue of the Dying Gladiator besides numerous other trophies.

Mr. Windnagle was an instructor in the public schools at Baker last year but will teach mathematics and coaching in Washington High School, Portland, next year.

VISCOUNTESS THROWN FROM PLUNGING CANOE

HONOLULU, T. H., July 7.—Viscountess Furness, wife of the head of the great British shipbuilding firm which bears her husband's name, had a narrow escape from drowning recently when she was thrown from an outrigger canoe in the surf off Waikiki beach.

Recreation—there is not so much in the ordinary vacation as there is in a single bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, which refreshes the tired blood, sharpens the dulled appetite, restores the lost courage. Take Hood's Sarsaparilla this summer.

When the viscountess and two of her woman friends were thrown from the plunging canoe, they were rescued by Captain A. Reavley of Viscount Furness' yacht Sapphire and a Hawaiian boy and supported until lifeguards came to their assistance on surf boards.

The titled British visitors spent three days in Honolulu aboard their yacht which is on a world tour.
